ANOTHER ITALIAN VICTORY---MEN FIGHT WITH FISTS

ALLIES ARE GIVING THE ENEMY NO REST

American and Australian Detachments Continue Nibbling Operations.

RETAIN THEIR GAINS

British Surge Ahead at Center of New Front Near Hamel and Operation Proves Successful in That All Objectives are Reached.

London, July 8.—Australian detachments, with which Americans are engaged on the British front east of Amiens, have pushed farther east from Hamel, south of the Somme river.

The Australians carried their line forward over a front of almost four miles at that point last Thursday. In their last assault they have surged ahead at the center of the new front, which they created last week. The operation was successful in that objectives were reached and the positions taken are being held.

Heavy Cannonading Along Lys. Further north, along the southern side of the Lys salient, there has been heavy artillery firing, especially in the Hinges sector. During the fighting in April, when the Germans had pushed far ahead in the Flanders area the battle north and east of Hinges was one of the most desperate character, in which German attacks were crushed by the British defenses.

The Americans and French have been active near Chateau Thierry, where the French have made some advance in the neighborhood of Hill 204 on the north side of which the Americans attacked and captured the village of Vaux last week. The French report some measure of success in the fighting, while the Germans declare the French and American assaults were repulsed with heavy losses.

There seems to be indication that fighting of a serious character may be impending on the Macedonian front, where it passes through Albania to the Adriatic. Vienna reports a heavy attack there by French and Italian troops. Positions were taken, but Vienna says the Allied units were driven out. The French report says the positions taken have been held firmly.

OFFICIALS ARE CRITICIZED

Report Is Made to House on East St. Louis Riots.

Washington, July 8.—City officials of East St. Louis, Ill., were severely criticized and the conduct of Colonel Tripp, an Illinois national guard officer, was characterized as reprehensible, in a report on the East St. Louis race riots last year, which was submitted to the House by Representative Johnson of Kentucky, chairman of the special congressional committee appointed to investigate the outbreaks.

The conduct of Col. Tripp, who was in charge of the troops sent to quell the disturbances, has been called to the attention of Secretary Baker, with the suggestion of a court-martial, Representative Johnson said.

Allies Will Soon Assist Russia to Restore Order

(By United Press)

Washington, July 8.—The United Press is able to state authoritatively that an army of trade and business experts supported by a sizeable police force of inter-allied troops will be sent to Russia to restore order. This will be very soon. There will be no military intervention now.

Georgia Senator Urges Quick Action

(By United Press)

Washington, July 8.—Senator Smith, of Georgia, urged the senate to act immediately on the wire control bill. The strikes in the southeast have not alarmed officials, as they expect Konnenkamp to keep the men in until the government acts. If a dangerous condition arises however the President will seize the lines.

German American Efforts for U. S.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS,

(Staff Correspondent United Press)

With the British Afield, July 8.—If anyone doubts how the German American soldier is fighting for the United States, Jess Krueger, thinks he can convince them. He interviewed several Hamel heroes. Private Bernard Stallinger had 5 grenades. With one he killed two German machine gunners, with the second he cleared a section of the trench and with the third he killed a boche trying to wing him, and brought back the other two. Nathan Lieberman encountered six Germans guarding a machine gun. He leveled his rifle at them. They begged for mercy and surrendered.

Atlanta, Ga., July 8.—One hundred and fifty telegraphers of the Western Union quit, claiming the company locked out union employees, also failed to play square.

RUSSIAN PEOPLE NEARING REVOLT

German Ambassador to Moscow Count von Mirbach, Is Assassinated.

UNREST IS GROWING

Berlin Is Expected to Send Troops to Russian Capital—Belief Prevails in Europe That Anti-German Outbreak Is Probable.

London, July 8.—In the assassination of Count von Mirbach, German ambassador, at Moscow, Russia has again come to the fore.

It is generally expected this event will result in the dispatch of German troops to the Muscovite capital, and opinion in Europe reflects the belief that the assassination may lead to an anti-German outbreak in Russia. There has been no official indication of Berlin's views on the situation.

The people of the Murman coast in the Kola region, bordering the White sea and the Arctic ocean, have turned against Russia and joined the Allies. It is reported from Copenhagen.

It is said supplies from the United States have been distributed among the people there. American, French and British marines are known to be patrolling certain sections along the Murman coast.

"Good Thing," says Kerensky. Paris, July 8.—Alexander F. Kerensky, former premier of Russia, when informed of the assassination of Count von Mirbach, German ambassador at Moscow, declared that while he could not "feel elated at the death of a human being," he could not help saying "it is a good thing for Russia."

"This may be the beginning of the renaissance of Russia," he added. "But now the Germans will surely go to Moscow," he added sadly.

It was only a few days ago that Kerensky expressed the opinion that the only reason Germans troops had not yet appeared in Moscow was because von Mirbach had not required their presence there.

"Should circumstances demand the appearance of German troops," said the former premier on this occasion, "Von Mirbach, the real ruler of Russia, will surely call upon them. His ability to govern without the help of German bayonets has alone prevented the appearance of German spiked helmets in the ancient capital of the Muscovite empire."

Russia Expresses Regrets.

As soon as the news of the assassination of Count von Mirbach came to M. Tchitcherine, the Russian foreign minister, M. Tchitcherine and his associate, M. Karakhan, called at the German embassy and expressed the regret and indignation of the government at the occurrence, says a Berlin dispatch, forwarded by the Havas correspondent at Basel.

The identity of the assassin has not been established, nor have they been arrested, the message states.

Germany Wants to Police Moscow and Petrograd

BY JOSEPH SHAPLEN,

(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Stockholm, July 8.—Germany will demand the right to police Moscow and Petrograd under the guise of maintaining order as a result of the assassination of Count Mirbach, the German ambassador to Russia, information here says. The Germans who claim the murder is the enemy's work, will demand the further free passage of troops to the Murman coast via Petrograd. It is believed the fear of this German-Finnish invasion really caused the Russian inhabitants of the Murman region to declare their allegiance to the allies renouncing Russia. It is believed the Bolsheviks either acceded to the German demands or abdicate, probably the former.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER,

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, July 8.—The assassination of the German ambassador at Moscow and the expectant German demands upon Russia gave impetus to the allied American efforts to reach a decision regarding aid for Russia. It is believed that certain and quick action must follow. Officials are still mum but the administration plans are first, an economic mission probably sent to Russia to study slay conditions and extend American aid, and second this mission will have military protection. Third, supplies will be sent to the Russians with troops solely as a protective force for the supplies, to prevent the Germans from getting them.

Amsterdam, July 8.—The Kaiser upon hearing of the assassination of Mirbach his personal friend, ordered Foreign Minister Kuehlman to break off relations with the Russian delegate at Berlin. The military police are guarding the Russian consulate at Berlin, fearing a demonstration.

Australians Advance on Two Mile Front

(By United Press)

London, July 8.—General Haig reported the Australians had slightly advanced their lines on both sides of the Somme along a two mile front.

Will Not Intervene Unless U. S. Joins

By TURNER

(Staff Correspondent United Press)

Tokio, July 8.—After two weeks negotiations over the allies' request for Siberian intervention, it was decided not to intervene unless the United States joined in the request.

UNITED STATES WILL TAKE PART

Decides to Aid Allies in Fighting German Influence in Russia.

KEEP PLANS SECRET

Conference at White House Outlines Plan of Action—Military Men Believe Expedition on an Extended Scale Is Impracticable.

Washington, July 8.—At a conference at the White House between President Wilson Secretaries Lansing, Baker and Daniels, Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, and General March, army chief of staff, America's waiting policy in regard to military action in Russia is understood to have ended.

There was no announcement after the conference and probably will be none for the present, but it was said unofficially an important decision had been reached.

Urgent appeals from the Allied governments for American approval of and co-operation in joint measures to meet the German menace throughout Russia have been before President Wilson for several days.

Until now, however, there has been no intimation he had changed his position, based on recommendations of his military advisers that a successful military effort in Russia was not feasible.

For military reasons strictest secrecy is observed concerning the exact nature of steps proposed by the Allies.

American and Allied naval forces are guarding war supplies both at Vladivostok, terminal of the Trans-Siberian railroad, and Kola, terminal of the railroad on the Arctic coast, which is reported threatened by German forces in the interior.

Belief among the majority of American military men that no expedition on an extended scale should be undertaken in the East apparently has undergone no change. In fact, one official more than intimated that the decision did not mean the embarkation of any great military force across the Pacific.

As to whether it meant operations by an international force of Japanese, French and British, with Americans in sufficient numbers to demonstrate participation of the United States, no one would say.

Regardless of the secrecy observed however, the plain intimation was given that the White House conference marked the end of the period of waiting which began on Bolshevik acceptance of the Brest-Litovsk treaty whereby Germany gained control of a large section of Russia and paved the way for extending her influence eastward far into Siberia.

AUSTRIAN GUNNERS KNIFED BY ITALIANS

Thirteen Hundred Machine Guns and Numerous Trench Mortars are Captured in Stubborn Battle

Took Place in Triangle of Dykes and Mud Filled Canals of The Lower Piave River

(By United Press)

With the Italians Afield, July 8.—The latest Italian victory pushed the Austrians eight miles further from Venice as a result of one of the stubbornest battles of the war fought in the triangle of dykes and mud filled canals of the lower Piave. The Austrians had strongly fortified every house, mill and dry spot in this region. The Italian artillery aided materially by pressing the enemy and bringing food from the mountains. Thousands of soldiers fought in waist deep water, often losing their weapons, and fighting with their fists and teeth. There are many instances of where men leaped over wire entanglements fronting machine guns and knifed the Austrian gunners. Thirteen hundred machine guns and numerous trench mortars were captured.

(Staff Correspondent United Press)

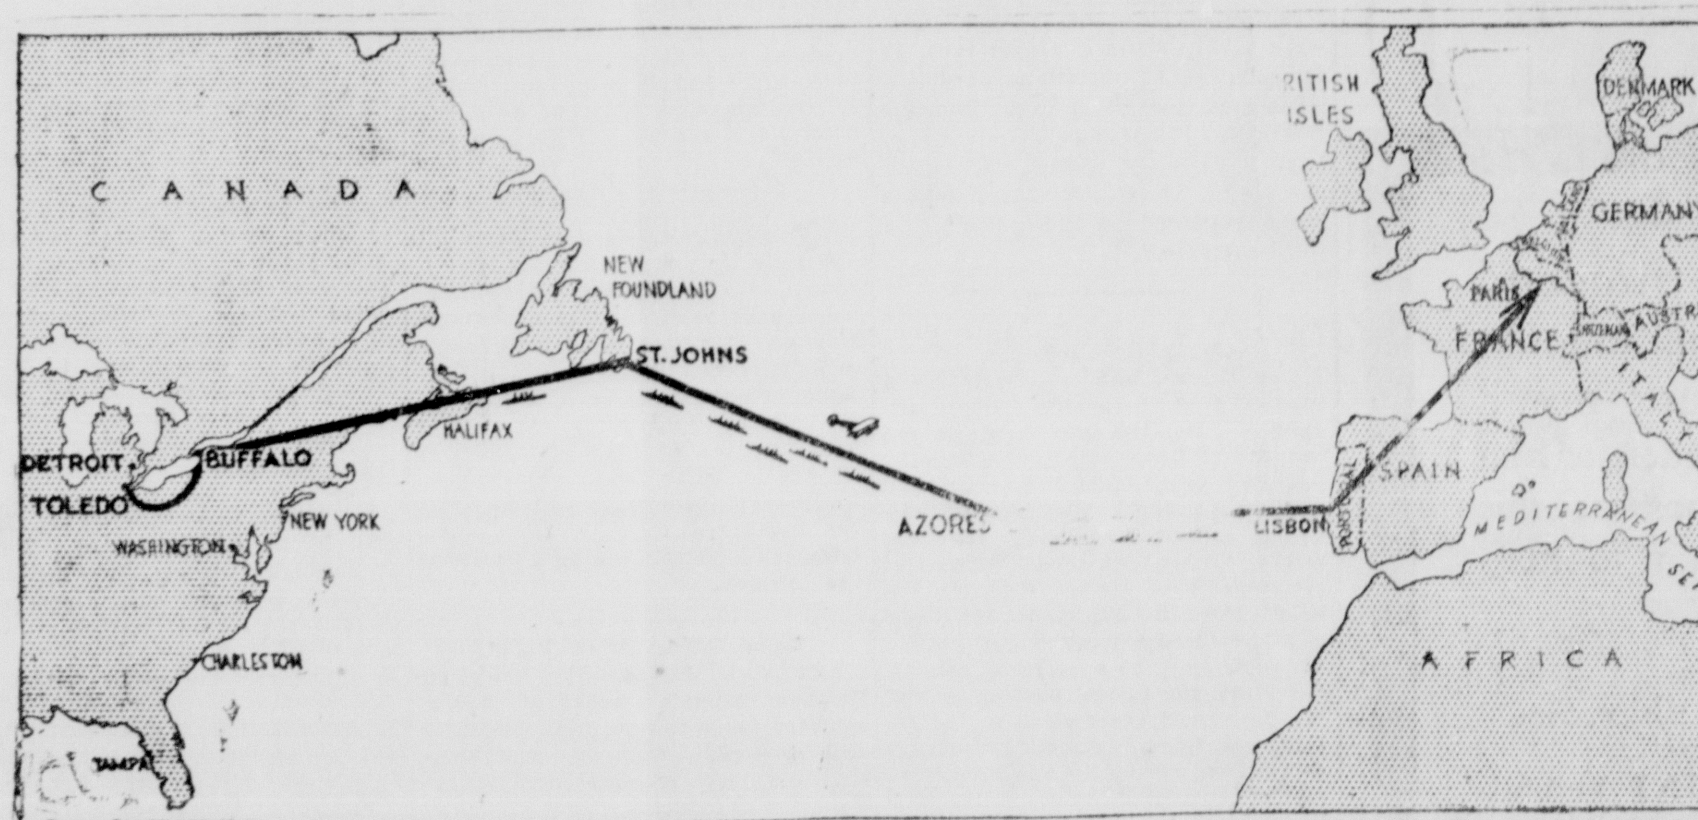

With the Americans on the Marne, July 8.—Americans aided the French in clearing Hill 204 which dominated Chateau Thierry from the west. The Americans were swimming when called. The opposing forces fought in the woods three hours. Some boches climbed trees pulling up machine guns and firing at the Americans who used rifles and grenades to knock them down. An American Sergeant exhausted his grenades then climbed the tree and knocked the German down.

Route Over Which Builder of Battleplanes Offers to Sail Them to Front Line

In order to save space on cargo ships W. H. Workman, representing the Handley-Page airplane concern of Great Britain, has made a proposition to send 10,000 planes from the middle west, where they could be constructed, to Newfoundland, then to the Azores and on to Lisbon and then to the battle line in France. The longest flight on this route would be 1,200 miles from Newfoundland to the Azores. He has suggested old cruisers might be placed along the route to save aviators who might be forced to go down, but he does not believe many of them would fail.

Mr. Workman is a cousin of F. S. Workman of Brainerd, manager of the Best theatre and Park opera house.

Medicinal Literature.

The London Lancet departs for a moment from the austere halls of science to adventure into the fields and gardens of literature, though keeping one foot safe within the accustomed medical precincts. The Lancet discusses nothing less worthy than the works, writings, theories, maxims and pleasantries of Master Francois Re-belais, the point being that his diversions into letters were simply part of his day's work as a practical medico.
He wrote, the Lancet assures us, not for the untold generations of the future, not for the delectation of our own selves, but solely and strictly to amuse, hearten and brace up the spirits of his patients during the tedium of their illness, thereby aiding his cures and adding to his stature as a member of the faculty.

Master Francois was a great believer in the therapeutic value of literature.

CALLS FOR BRAKE

Middle-Aged Man Would Slow Up
Wheels of Time.

Is Living in Hope That Some Man
Will Devise a Workable Scheme for Renewing One's Lease of Life, and Do It Quickly.

"What we really need," said the middle-aged man, "is some way of slowing up the wheels of time.

"As every man who has begun to get on in life knows, the older we grow the faster time seems to fly. In our youth even single days seem to be endless; but when we get to be about so old the years go so fast that they seem to spin around like pin-wheels.

"There was once an advertiser with a patent medicine to sell who started off his advertisement by describing himself as a retired physician whose sands of life had nearly run out. A well-meaning friend in the far West wrote to him saying that if he would mix a little molasses with the sands they wouldn't run out so fast.

"Of course there was an idea in that; but the minute you come to think it over seriously you see that there is really nothing to it. To make the wheels of time turn slower you'd have to have something more than molasses.
I have thought that perhaps we might invent some sort of brake, a very powerful brake, for this purpose, but I guess there's really nothing in this idea, either.

"Lacking the means of making the wheels of time turn slower, so that we would seem to have more time, I have thought that perhaps somebody may yet devise a way of renewing our lease of life. If we could get an indefinite renewal of our life lease we wouldn't care how fast the wheels turned, because we'd have endless years for them to turn in.

"The man who could devise a workable plan of this sort would get rich beyond any sort of dreams whatever;
that is, if he could prolong his own life as well as sell life-renewal leases to others; for I fancy that, hard as this world may be in some respects, the great majority of us would like to continue living in it a long, long time, and would give all we had for that privilege.

"For myself, I can say that I like the world very well and I would like to stay on it interminably. If there is anybody now working on this life-lease-renewal device I hope he will get it running before the sands of my old-fashioned life shall have run out completely; and if when he opens up for business he will let me know where to find him I shall go to him; and, if I have the price, take out as a first extension a renewal for about a century."

Bolshevik Money Aids Huns.

Geneva, July 8.—The Swiss Federal council is making serious inquiries concerning reports that enormous amounts of money have been placed in Swiss banks by Bolsheviks. Several billion francs have been transferred to Swiss institutions through German banks, according to the Gazette de Thurgovie. The funds are destined to aid revolutionary propaganda along the Bolshevik lines in Allied countries, with Switzerland as a center of the intrigue.

U. S. N., who is credited with sinking a German submarine in British waters on April 19, 1917, while commanding the gun crew of the steamship Men-golia. This medal, provided from a fund established by Lee De Forest, the inventor, was the second award.

BRITISH BOMBARD COBLENZ

German Fortress Is Given Very Severe Shelling.

Basel, Switzerland, July 8.—The bombardment of Coblenz on Friday by British airmen was the most severe of the war, although the work of the airmen was hampered by the presence of a fog. The northern portion of the railway station and the famous iron bridge were seriously damaged. A bomb fell in the center of the bridge across the Moselle river and another on the Royal palace.

South German newspapers state that 12 persons were killed and 23 wounded in Coblenz, but make no mention of the famous fortress Ehrenbreitstein across the Rhine where bombs fell among soldiers. Since the war began this fortress has always been full of recruits.

tions. The raids were carried out simultaneously before daylight, and extended into the adjoining counties of Roscommon and Kings. There was no resistance except in a few instances where the presence of arms was denied but the weapons afterwards were surrendered.

Birds Finally Agreed.

A family of robins and a family of bluebirds are occupying the same house, something quite unusual in bird lore. E. M. Cashman, caretaker of the Altoona (Pa.) reservoir, has reported.

Mr. Cashman has erected a number of bird boxes on the watershed and he watches over his charges lovingly. When Papa and Mamma Bluebird came north this spring they were horrified to find their usual cozy birdbox was occupied. That is, a pair of robins, arriving a week earlier, had started to build a nest on the tiny porch of the house. A wordy battle started, which lasted for several days. The bluebirds wanted the robins to move.

The robins maintained their position. And then, quite suddenly, hostilities ceased. Investigating, Mr. Cashman found the bluebirds were building a nest inside the box, while the robins made themselves comfortable on the porch. Then both mothers sat on a nest of eggs.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Today

Mae Marsh's marked success in dramatic roles such as she played in "The Face of the Dark" induces Goldwyn to offer her in still stronger parts. It is with especial pleasure that Miss Marsh is presented in "All Woman," by E. Lloyd Sheldon, at the Best theatre tonight. As Susan Sweeney, the factory girl who went to a mountain community to claim an inheritance and found herself in a tangle of exciting circumstances, Mae Marsh has the most interesting role of her career.

Instead of the splendid hotel which she thought she had inherited, Susan finds a miserable roadhouse frequented by the worst element of the country. Rather than take the advice of Austin Strong, a young lawyer and political leader, and return home, Susan determines to stay and do what she can to relieve the distress caused by the liquor traffic in the town.

Miriam, the sister of Strong, elopes with a dissipated young man and they seek shelter in Susan's hotel, intending to be married next day. When they have registered Susan begs them to consider what they are doing, and succeeds in persuading them to return home.

"Toys of Fate"

Hagar, the young wife of Pharos, the gypsy chief, leaves her husband and child for the luxuries the wealthy Bruce Griswold can give her. Tiring of her, he tells her to go back to her tribe, as he is going to marry a girl of his own class. She throws herself from an upper window, and her body is found by her husband. He finds a picture of Griswold in a locket around her neck, and swears to be revenged.

The gypsy chief's daughter, Azah, grows up a care free, untamed creature. Greggo, a gypsy who hopes to succeed Pharos as chief, loves her. After many years the gypsies are encamped once more near the Griswold estate. Howard Belmont who has been Griswold's lawyer, has recently been made Prosecuting Attorney, and Henry Livingston now handles Griswold's business. Griswold asks Henry to oust the gypsies.

Griswold and Belmont also go to the encampment. The women tell their fortunes. Azah shows her father the strange lines in Griswold's hand. He looks at the stranger, recognizes the face in the locket, and says craftily, "There is such happiness in your hand that it frightened my daughter." Noticing Griswold's interest in Azah, Pharos proposes to buy from him a strip of land so that the gypsies may have a permanent home. Griswold agrees, but adds, "Bring your daughter along when we discuss terms." Azah has eyes for no one but Henry, and repulses Greggo, who is furious. Seeing Henry with Blanche Griswold, Azah yearns for an education, to be worthy of Henry. Belmont advises Griswold to educate the girl, in order to win possession of her.

Blanche Griswold is in love with Henry. One day she accidentally twists her ankle, and Griswold comes upon the scene as Henry is assisting her. Griswold purposely misinterprets the situation, and congratulates Henry on having won Blanche's love. Azah returns from school on the very day that a luncheon is being given at the Griswold home in honor of the engagement. Azah leaves broken-hearted.

Captivated by the girl's charm, Griswold proposes to Azah. Belmont, knowing that Azah's heart is not in the marriage, gives her some pellets to take in case life becomes unbearable. One will bring forgetfulness, two, deep slumber, and three—death.

After the ceremony Azah realizes that she cannot keep her promise to be a wife to Griswold and places three pellets in a glass of champagne. She is prevented from drinking it by the entrance of her father who now tells her her mother's history, and demands that she avenge her. He has scarcely gone, when Griswold enters, calling drunkenly for his bride. Seeing the glass of wine on the table, he drinks it, and drops to the floor, instantly killed.

She is brought to trial for the death of Griswold. Henry insists on defending her, and Blanche breaks their engagement. Henry clears Azah of the charge of murder, but Greggo, who is present at the trial is consumed with jealousy at Azah's evident love for Henry, and levels his revolver at Henry. Azah throws herself in front of him and receives the shot.

The wound while serious, is not fatal, and Henry's devotion hastens the girl's recovery. Azah and Henry are married, and no longer the toys of fate, face a future of happiness together. At the Best theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

Food

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

The Organization for and Purposes and Methods of Food Conservation in the United States.

1. What is the United States Food Administration?

A government organization created as a war measure to meet all food problems, national and international.

2. How was it created?

Congress gave the President power to create it by Executive order.

3. When was it created?

August 10, 1917.

4. What work was begun before this date?

On May 17, 1917, the President requested Mr. Herbert Hoover to take over the proposed task of food administration, and on June 12 he urged Mr. Hoover to begin assembling the voluntary forces of the country to save food.

5. What is the purpose of the Food Administration?

(a) To secure sufficient food for our civilian population, for our soldiers, for the soldiers and civilians of our associates in the war.

(b) To maintain an even supply of essential foods.

(c) To stabilize prices by abolishing speculation, hoarding and profiteering.

6. What does the Food Administration ask of the American people?

To save wheat; to save meat; to save sugar; to save fats; to save transportation; to eliminate waste; to substitute other foods for those we are asked to save; to eat only as much as we need.

7. How can these things be accomplished?

By increased production, proper distribution, control of exports and checking of speculation; but chiefly by the voluntary effort of every man, woman, and child in the United States.

8. Is the entire work of the Food Administration done from the central office in Washington?

No; the work is decentralized. Every state has its own Federal Food Administrator recommended by Mr. Hoover and appointed by the President.

9. What is the meaning of the term "decentralized"?

Removing some of the functions of an organization from the central authority to local authorities.

10. Why can not all administrative work be done in Washington?

Because the state laws and local conditions vary so greatly; but the central authority remains there and all policies are decided by the United States Food Administration.

11. How is the work in each state decentralized?

Through the appointment by its Federal Food Administrator of a county chairman or administrator for each county.

12. What assistants has the Federal Food Administrator in his work?

State and county administrators are aided by home economic directors; by merchant representatives, who look after the stores; by hotel chairmen, who supervise hotels and restaurants; by library directors, who render service through the public libraries; by educational directors.

13. Do the Federal Food Administrators of the various states keep in touch with the United States Food Administration in Washington?

Yes.

14. How?

By frequent conference and constant interchange of information relating to national policies and local conditions.

15. What salaries are received by the United States Food Administrator and the Federal Food Administrators of the different states?

They receive no salaries; they give their services to the government.

16. Why does the Food Administration seem to change its policy in many of its rulings?

Because, although the purpose remains the same, new factors constantly arise in our present disturbed condition which make necessary a readjustment of method and policy to that purpose. (Questions on bread and beef answered in a later issue.)

Sugar Purchases Limited—Two Pounds in City—Five in Country.

Under regulations announced by the Food Administration this week and effective at once, single purchases of sugar by the consumer for regular household purposes, exclusive of canning, are limited to two pounds in the city and five pounds in rural communities.

Consumers will also be required upon making this purchase to sign and leave with the retailer a pledge to use the sugar thus purchased according to food administration regulations, and in quantity not exceeding 3 pounds per month for each member of the household.

Sugar for canning purposes is obtainable as heretofore—25 pounds at a purchase upon signing of a certificate. After four purchases have been made for canning no more will be allowed except on special certificate issued by the county food administrator.

When Accidents Occur.

It is a curious fact that accidents in industrial plants occur, mostly, between 9 and 9:59 in the morning and between 3 and 3:59 in the afternoon. This is the discovery of the safety director of a large steel company after a year's study. Moreover, the high point of the year in his study was August. Curiously enough, his findings parallel those of the German government covering 25 years, and are close to those of our own department of labor.—Ladies' Home Journal.

Nature's Defenses.

Human beings are not the only life that makes provisions against the ant trouble. These active foragers would invest some plants and carry away all pollen, nectar, etc., without performing any service to the plant. So nature has in many cases protected the parts with a sticky substance so that creeping insects cannot approach, while bees and other winged insects may safely alight on the parts above and cross—fertilize or pollenate the flowers.

FARMERS KEEPING BOOKS

The day has gone by when farming could be conducted in a slipshod manner and the man who had failed at everything else took up this calling as a last resort.

The farmer of today is as keen an keeping accounts as any business man. He keeps tab on his dairy herd, on milk, cream and butter sales, on farm costs, taxes, etc.

Another stimulant to keeping track on profits and losses is the income tax law which makes it practically necessary for a farmer to know where he stands when making returns to the federal government.

A well conducted farm is a great enterprise. Agriculture is the foundation of all states. A system of bookkeeping carried out is a further aid in keeping a proper record of farming.

A FINE ENTERPRISE

The Farmers Cooperative Creamery is one of the biggest enterprises of Crow Wing county. When a stockholders meeting gathers 75 farmers in earnest discussion, it shows the solid support of the creamery.

The creamery means much to the farmers, to this county, to this community.

"The Aitkin cooperative creamery," said Rep. C. H. Warner of Aitkin when conferring with a local committee "means more to us than the best iron mine in the state. The creamery tends to build up the whole community, while with an iron mine you never know when it is going to run out."

DISASTERS OF PEACE

Deaths in industrial accidents and disasters of peace mount as high and frequently higher than the casualty list in war.

One hundred are unaccounted for in the Peoria river excursion steamer sinking.

Pershing reports 43 casualties and 114 marines. The peace death toll in one accident almost mounts as high as a deadly war with the boche.

Voluntary Rationing.

Controller Hoover congratulated a Washington gathering on the success of the voluntary rationing system.

"The observance of voluntary rationing has been universal," he said. "I heard the other day of a tiny urchin on a picnic in the country who ran to his mother with tears in his eyes."

"What's the matter?" his mother asked.

"The urchin held out a swollen finger and shouted, indignantly: 'Them bees! Today is a meatless Tuesday and them bees ain't observin' it!'"

Need Not Go to Europe.

Here is another thing this war has shown. In the past thousands of Americans have gone to Europe for the "baths" and "springs." Now it is found that the waters at every one of the famous European places can be duplicated in this country.

DISPATCH WANTS ADS PAY.

BUY WATCHES TO GET GOLD

Ingenious Scheme of Central Empires to Increase Their Supply of the Precious Metal.

It is an oddity of the world war that the jewelry trade is flourishing. A secret article in the Revue Suisse d'Exportation of Geneva gives an interesting view of this situation and also suggests a method by which the central empires undoubtedly have increased their gold supply—namely, the importation of gold jewelry to be melted into bullion.

In the course of the crisis provoked by the European war we pass from one surprise to another, says the Revue. The belligerent countries, one after another, have imposed measures forbidding the importation of luxuries and watches. In spite of all these difficulties the orders, particularly for gold watches of medium price, are received in increasing numbers by our watchmakers, while those for watches of high and low prices are few.

The jewelry trade has passed through a prosperous period, which is not yet over. In fact, it is at its height. Everything went well so long as there were no abuses, but the time came when jewelry, especially heavy gold chains without much workmanship, began to be exported to the Orient. High prices were paid for these articles. Gold (fine) in Switzerland is valued at about $720 a kilo (2.2 pounds) and in the Orient, or at Vienna, it is quoted at $2,400 per kilo. There is, therefore, a considerable margin which allows a large profit to our manufacturers and their agents, also to foreign merchants. These articles, however, are not all destined for Turkey. A great many of them find their way into the central empires.

When steps were taken to check this trade numerous orders for watches with cheap movements in heavy gold cases came flowing into the watchmaking centers. These orders were destined for Constantinople. The scheme was perfectly apparent, and government authorities took prompt measures to put a stop to the proceeding.

HOW BIG GUN WAS FOUND

French Artillery Officers Made Careful Measurements, and the Rest of the Matter Was Easy.

Careful measurements of two holes made by a single shell in passing through two awnings in a Paris factory enabled French artillery officers to locate the great German long-range gun by a feat of mathematics. The two awnings were several feet apart and the relation of one to the other gave perfect data on the course which the shell had taken as it approached the earth. After the apertures had been measured to the one-thousandth part of an inch and the direction of the shell's fall exactly established, the earlier career of the shell became a problem on paper. By applying the laws governing the flight of projectiles, and allowing for the wind, the state of the atmosphere and other considerations, French artillery officers were able to follow back the course of the shell to the mouth of the cannon in the forest of St. Gobain, after which it was speedily demolished by French artillery.

Wisdom of Daylight Saving.

Who ever thinks nowadays that the sun is an hour behind the clock? Five o'clock when it is six? We go peacefully to bed when the clock tells us to; we arise by the same token; we eat, play and work by the Promethean instrument which, for war and common sense purposes, is stealing 60 golden minutes every day from the sun to benefit the human race. And nary a vulture of any description is tearing at the clock's vitals for filching the same.

Here and there is a little petty thievery such as the beginning of baseball games at 3:30 o'clock that used to begin at three o'clock; but the public is too busy with great work, and at present with the races and golf recreation to worry about that. In general, America is living by the clock as it should do, and the wisdom of the daylight savings law is a thousand times manifest. —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Italians Save Wood Ashes.

Increased wood-burning and scarcity of chemical fertilizers are reported by Consul Haven of Turin to be turning attention in Italy to the saving and collection of wood ashes. Of the many constituents, the potash is of importance for fertilizing. The potash in wood ash averages 6 to 19 per cent, and the quantity per ton of wood ranges from one pound from spruce to 3.31 from oak and 8.6 from elm. A ton of wormwood yields 160.93 pounds of potash in 241.73 of ash; fumaria, 174.16 pounds of potash in 482.81 of ash.

Mrs. Styles—You have a wonderful memory for dress, dear.

Mr. Styles—Well, I've seen a lot of it.

"You always seem to remember what I have worn. Do you recall what I had on the night you proposed marriage to me?"

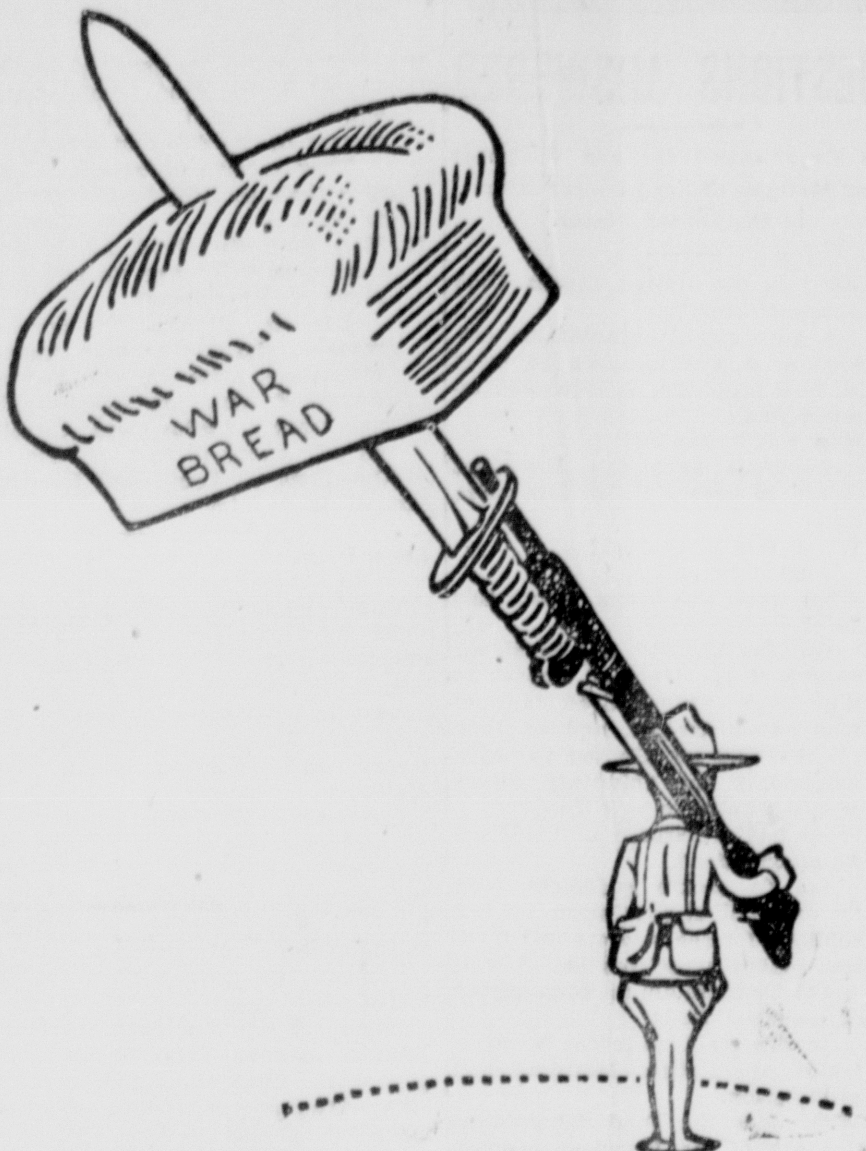

"Why, yes; you had a sort of a foolish look on your face."

An Exerciser.

"Do you take exercise regularly?"

"Yes," replied Mr. Chuggins. "I crank the old flivver three or four times daily and repair a tire at least twice a week."

The War Gardener Answers

BREAD and Bayonets BEAT the Boche

This is the opinion of war gardeners of the United States who have, according to reports received by the National War Garden Commission, jumped the number of war gardens forty per cent, over those in 1917. The war gardeners are eligible to compete for the ten thousand dollars in thrift stamps the Commission at Washington is offering for the best canned vegetables grown in war gardens.

STRIKE IS POSTPONED CAUSE GREAT DAMAGE

Telegraphers' Union President Decides to Grant Delay.

Walkout of Operators Is Averted Through Efforts of Secretary of Labor Wilson.

Washington, July 8.—Secretary of Labor Wilson, after he had conferred over the long distance telephone with T. J. Konekamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, announced that indefinite postponement of the strike of operators employed by the Western Union Telegraph company had been secured.

Secretary Wilson said Mr. Konekamp, who is in Chicago, had given him every assurance the strike order would not be put into effect and any walkout would be postponed indefinitely. It was understood the union president agreed to this course because Congress now is considering a resolution authorizing the President to take over and operate during the war all telegraph, telephone, cable and radio systems.

In a final effort to avert the strike, Mr. Wilson sent Mr. Konekamp a telegram urging delay and later called in Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who also sent a telegram to the union president urging postponement of the strike. Later Mr. Wilson got into communication with Mr. Konekamp on the telephone.

GAIN GROUND ALONG PIAVE

Austrians Are Forced to Retreat By Italian Forces.

London, July 8.—The Italians have cleared the Austrians from a considerable part of the terrain to which the enemy had been clinging near the mouth of the Piave.

In hard fighting the Austrian resistance was broken in the area close to the Adriatic. General Diaz' troops have driven the invaders out of the contested district and across the new bed of the river from Grisolera to the sea, approximately five miles. Four hundred of the enemy were taken prisoner.

Vienna admits loss of ground, conceding that the Austrian advanced forces were driven back on their main body.

POTATO RATIONS ARE CUT

Amsterdam, July 8.—Owing to the lateness of the new potato crop, the Berlin authorities, according to the Tagblatt, announced the reduction of the potato ration from three pounds to one pound and the distribution of an extra 200 grams of beans and peas a person.

British Destroy Three Planes.

London, July 8.—The official communication dealing with aerial operations says: "Our balloons and observation machines carried out much valuable work on the 6th inst. There were few combats in the air. Three German airplanes were destroyed and one was driven down out of control. One of our machines is missing. Seventeen tons of bombs have been dropped on various targets during the last 24 hours."

Artillery Is Also Playing Havoc With Supply Trains Moving Behind Enemy Lines.

Washington, July 8.—In the region of Marete wood in Etrepilly and in the vicinity of Charteves, the American artillery is making life miserable for the Germans.

Ammunition dump after ammunition dump has gone up in flames and the straight shooting Yankees have demoralized again and again German troops, mobilizing in the rear areas played havoc with supply trains, moving behind the German lines.

These facts are established in General Pershing's communique covering the activities of the Americans in the Marne region on July 1 to 2.

"Our batteries," says the communique, "are maintaining a harassing fire around Etrepilly, destroying an ammunition dump and setting fire to many buildings."

At Charteves, the communique says, there were several indications of direct hits being made. Late in the evening on July 1 a large blaze, followed by a terrific explosion gave evidence that an unusually large ammunition dump had been fired by American shells. Later in the evening other fires were seen and still more explosions heard.

"Early in the morning of July 2," the report continues, "there was still another report of an explosion and the high shooting flames and bursting of cartridges were evidence that still another ammunition dump had been destroyed."

General Pershing's statement says that during the American attack on Vaux July 1 and 2 the Germans, demoralized by the American attack, "fled in disorder to Bois de Rochets. So effective was our artillery fire that communication between German battalion and regimental headquarters could be maintained only by a single messenger dog."

Observers Say Germans Are Preparing for Big Assault.

Washington, July 8.—As a result of the disclosures made by General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, regarding the week's developments on the Western front, military observers here expressed their complete confidence in the ability of the American and Allied forces to hold firm against any blow the Germans can deliver.

No attempt is made, however, to conceal the belief that the days immediately ahead may be those of the most severe fighting of the war.

The very delay of the Germans in pressing their assault indicates the great preparations they are making.

AGREES WITH WILSON

Head of Peace League Says Wars Must Be Abolished.

Organization of Universal Scope Is Not Possible Except Among Allied Nations.

Paris, July 8.—Former Premier Leon Bourgeois, president of the committee formed to study the questions of bringing about a league of nations, said regarding the findings of the committee that his views were identical with those of President Wilson on the objects to be attained, namely: A lasting peace founded on respect for the liberties and rights of peoples.

An organization of universal scope, M. Bourgeois said, was not actually possible except among the Entente Allied nations.

It would afterwards be opened to other nations when those countries furnished the necessary guarantees, possessed a democratic form of government and expressed a willingness to place their destinies in the hands of the combine of nations in accordance with the ideas of President Wilson and Lord Curzon, member of the British war cabinet.

Plans for the organization of the league of nations, the former premier added, should be studied now for it would bind tighter the ties uniting the Entente Allies and also establish a diplomatic unity, something which would be indispensable at the time negotiations for peace were instituted.

Acting without delay, M. Bourgeois concluded, the Allies would increase considerably their moral influence on the world.

Minister of Industrial Supplies Tenders His Resignation.

Christiania, Norway, July 8.—Prof. Prytz, minister of industrial supplies in the Norwegian cabinet since April 1917, has resigned.

His resignation is said to be due to the fear that the working provisions of the agreement with the United States would present difficulties and would create a situation for which Prof. Prytz did not want to assume responsibility.

FARMERS THROG TO CREAMERY MEETING

Farmers Cooperative Creamery Met at Chamber of Commerce Rooms on Saturday Afternoon

VIEW STRUCTURE BUILDING

Vote of Thanks Given Board of Directors for Efficient Management of Creamery-Shown

Stockholders of the Farmers Cooperative Creamery now being built on South Broadway held an enthusiastic meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last Saturday afternoon. Minor changes were made in the articles of incorporation and other matters of business were transacted.

There was a great deal of evidence of good feeling among the stockholders and appreciation of the progress made was freely shown. "We must all stick" was the common slogan.

G. S. McCulloch started it by stating what the Livestock Shipping Association had done for the farmers, and what it would do if they stick to it in the future. "I think there is hardly a farmer in the county but that will admit that the Livestock Shipping association has been a good thing for him," said Mr. McCulloch. Whether he ships his stock through the association or not, he is getting a higher price for his stock than he would if the association did not exist. Farmers that shipped through the association were a credit to it, but those that were striving for a higher price by using the influence of the association and then shipping their stock in some other way were branded as "slackers." It would be just the same with the creamery as with the livestock shipping association, and hence all must resolve to "stick."

A vote of thanks was given the board of directors for their efficient management of the creamery so far.

More stock was subscribed for at the meeting and cash was paid in. There were about seventy-five farmers present.

James Sorenson, vice president of the company presided at the meeting. Nels G. Olson, president being absent on a visit. Mr. Sorenson showed that he was not a new hand at the job. E. E. Taylor acted as secretary.

County Agent E. A. Colquhoun having made a trip to Aitkin with Peter Stendal was in position to explain what the creamery there was doing and compare it with local conditions. Charles Warner, representative from Aitkin county, had said that he would rather have the pay roll from the Aitkin Cooperative Creamery than the payroll of the N. P. shops in Brainerd or from one of the best iron mines in the state. The creamery tended to build up the whole community, while with an iron mine you never knew when it was going to run out.

After the meeting the stockholders all made a visit to the creamery plant and had things explained by the building committee and directors.

"This looks like business to me," said Richard Wetherbee. "Everyone seems to feel enthusiastic about it, and that is what counts."

"It feels good," said Peter Stendal after it was all over. "Hurrah for the creamery! I am glad to know that stockholders appreciate what we are doing for them."

DEATH OF BABY

Donald Gould three week's old son of Mr. and Mrs. Pierson H. Gould of Cross Lake died of pneumonia at a local hospital and the funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at Cross Lake.

BUNTS FROM THE DIAMOND

It was a great Fourth of July game at Bemidji. Rube Schauer, formerly of the New York Giants and last year with the Philadelphia Athletics, playing with Bemidji, in a pitcher's battle defeated Joe Graves, also a former Philadelphia pitcher, who played with the Red Lake Indians against Bemidji, 1 to 0. Graves has pitched for Brainerd at various times. Ollie Fuhrman of Minneapolis, who caught for Bemidji, made the only run of the game with a homer over the fence in the fourth inning. Schauer struck out 21 men and allowed only one hit. Graves struck out six and allowed six hits. Bemidji had no errors and Red Lake five.

Ironton brought to the game at Brainerd Sunday one of the best representations of fans seen in a long time. The girl rooters were in evidence and yelled until they got hoarse. Mayor J. P. Long, George Ridley, the Ellingson brothers, were prominent among the Ironton fans.

FARMERS SHIPPING STOCK

George McCulloch, Business Agent, Shipped Car of Stock to St. Paul Yards Last Week

George McCulloch, business agent of the Brainerd Livestock Shipping association of farmers, shipped a car of farmers' stock last week to the St. Paul yards. Prices were rather low, but the farmers were generally satisfied with results. Mr. McCulloch does not expect prices to be better for some time to come.

BLACK DIAMOND TRAIL AT PILLAGER

Route Decided Upon at Meeting of Representatives at Pillager, to Go On South Side

THE BRAINERD MEN ATTENDING

R. E. Wise, C. L. Mott, S. R. Adair, Henry I. Cohen Met with County Commissioners and Others (Pillager Herald)

The Highway Commissioners having the selection of the Black Diamond route from Pillager to Motley and Staples in charge, after going over and inspecting the route on each side of the Crow Wing river met at the Security State Bank in Pillager on Friday and decided on the south side, which is satisfactory to Pillager and quite satisfactory to John Berglund, county commissioner of north Morrison county, as it was where he wanted it to go from the start, and we are pleased that the road commissioners decided in his favor as we consider him a live wire and the most energetic and good roads champion of the whole bunch, and we feel certain now of as good a driveway as there is in the state between here and the wide-awake sister village of Motley.

There are also others who will be pleased at the selection of the south side route, as it opens up to development to better advantage the Rogers Brothers' 3,700 acre tract of the best stock land in the state, through which the highway passes on its north side, and this pleases us still more, for we know them to be liberal contributors to good roads, in the shape of taxes and otherwise. The following named persons were delegates and attendants at the meeting Friday: R. E. Wise, C. L. Mott, county engineer of Crow Wing county; S. R. Adair, treasurer of Crow Wing county; Henry I. Cohen, capitalist, all of Brainerd; Clem Thompson, real estate, of Staples; C. M. Hastings, of Verndale; John Berglund county commissioner, of Motley; Wm. Morey, farmer of Motley; Mr. Florey, of Staples, and Cass County Commissioner Warner, who was somewhat disappointed as his choice of routes was the north side. The matter of location now having been decided, we expect to see the dirt begin to fly and that link in the road from Duluth to Winnipeg soon to be one of the best in the state.

ROLL OF HONOR

Attorney B. J. Broady, formerly in practice at Brainerd and later located in St. Paul, has enlisted in the coast artillery and is now stationed at Fort Monroe, Virginia, writes his wife to the Dispatch.

Catarrah Deafness Cannot be Cured, by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrh deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrh deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound of imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation is reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. Ford Demolished, Saxon Radiator is Broken, Etc.—Miss Doris Curo's Scalp Wounded

Yelling "whoa" at his Ford did not stop the flivver, so James Ingram of Pequot ascertained on the road near Sol Marquis' place on Pelican and the crash following broke up the Ford and broke the radiator bent the axle and smashed the lamps of J. C. Hammers Saxon six, Sunday afternoon.

The care rounded a sharp turn and Hammer put on the emergency and stopped his car. The shock of the collision hurt Miss Doris Curo's head and she sustained a bad scalp wound.

Mr. Hammer, who is cashier of the Jenkins State bank, said Ingram simply threw up his hands and yelling "whoa," plunged into the standing car.

Chamber of Commerce Aids in Listering Men and Boys who Desire Work in Hayfields

Haying will soon be in full blast in Crow Wing county. Every meadow will be made to yield its toll because there is a shortage. Haying starts Tuesday.

Farmers desiring help should notify E. A. Colquhoun, county agricultural agent. Any boys wishing work should notify Fred T. Lincoln, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

A woman from Deerwood has applied for work in the haying season and said she weighed 178 pounds, was 5 feet 7 inches tall, in perfect condition. Many farmers are hiring capable women and paying them men's wages. Every squib of hay will have to be gathered as the crop will be a short one, about one-third of normal.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Charles LaFavor had hard luck in plenty the other day. While driving a Ford truck on Oak street he had a blowout and as he reached for the tool box he saw it was gone, but noticed it down the road. Just then another Ford hove into sight swooped down and picked up the box. He couldn't give chase as his truck was disabled.

A Dispatch editorial mentioned a man who had but ten days' vacation in seven years. Wm. Nelson, clerk of the water and light board, has a record beating that. He has had no vacation in ten years.

Sometimes Brainerd news gets such a prominent place that the very splendor of the position dazzles the readers' eyes. The Fourth of July victory for Brainerd which was a regular Waterloo for Little Falls hit the top of the sport page of the Duluth News Tribune and formed the third paragraph of the story which covered four Fourth of July games, Bemidji, Brainerd, Virginia and Chisholm. Mr. Barr of the northwest department of the "News Trib" has the thanks of local fans for boosting Brainerd so nicely.

BRAINERD 5, IRONTON 4

Locals Best the Leaders in the Central Minnesota Red Cross League on Sunday

HANNAN STRIKES OUT 12

Brainerd Bunched Hits and Runs in the Lucky Seventh and Then Held Them Down

In one of the best games of the season, excelling almost in intense excitement the Fourth of July game at Little Falls the locals defeated Ironton 5 to 4, and advanced securely to second place in the league.

Bunching four hits and three runs off Hughey Jennings in the lucky seventh and then playing on the defensive, Brainerd turned the trick.

Hannan struck out twelve, having one bad inning in the sixth when Ironton did its only scoring, making four runs. In the ninth Hannan struck out Paulson and two pinch hitters, Grenier and Lorraine Ellingson.

The crowd was larger than at any game since the opening of the season. The bleachers were filled and two-thirds of the grand stand. Ironton fans turned out well and some fifteen cars made the trip to Brainerd bent upon seeing their range favorites win. The game in detail is worthy perusing. This is the Brainerd account of run getting:

Nothing doing in the first. In the second inning Gaskill got a hit and stole home. Bush got a pass, stole second and later stole home. In the fifth there were no runs, but Cook and Gaskill executed a pretty double steal, making third and second respectively. In the seventh Carrievau made first on an error of first baseman, Templeton got a single and Cook a double. All three scored. Gaskill singled and later, tearing down the path for home, calked the catcher, McGarry and was put out at the plate. Bush singled. Results, 3 runs, 4 hits, McGarry was a gritty cuss, bandaged up his knee and kept on playing.

Ironton made four runs in Hannan's off inning in the sixth. McElligitt singled, Putnam reached first on an error of second baseman, Howard and McGarry got two-baggers. Results, four runs, four hits.

Paulson's fly was gobbled up by Benda in a fine catch in the fourth inning. Base stealing contributed to making up Brainerd's budget of runs in the second and the boldness and success of the locals almost paralyzed Ironton.

FIND SEVENTY-SEVEN BODIES

About Twenty-five More Are in Hull of Wrecked Boat.

Peoria, Ill., July 8.—The number of bodies recovered from the wreck of the ill-fated excursion steamer Columbia, now resting on the bottom of the Illinois river near here, has reached 77. Earl R. Barnwell, expert diver, declared there are at least 25 more bodies pinned in the submerged wreck. Federal investigation of the sinking of the steamer is under way. United States Inspectors Rees V. Downs and George R. Bower, of St. Louis were at the scene of the tragedy. They made extended observations of the remains of the vessel, questioned survivors and later summoned before them members of the crew of the boat, whom they questioned separately.

FOR BETTER ROADS

SPEED GOOD ROADS BUILDING

Federal Supervision of Nation's Highways Is Being Urged—Military Value Is Shown.

A few days ago a big government motortruck stuck hard and fast in a rut on the road between Washington and Baltimore. A commercial truck tried to get around it from one direction and another government truck from the other direction. Both of these also stuck. Soon this over-traveled road, for a mile each way, was jammed with squawking cars and trucks. All traffic was stalled for the better part of a day, with the result that war work was delayed, suburbanites were late to dinner and thirsty Washingtonians were unable to reach the Maryland oasis.

This incident is no special discredit to the Maryland road builders. The Washington-Baltimore road was not built for the amount and kind of traffic it is now bearing. The same is true of many other highways in all parts of the country. More and more motor-trucks are taking over what used to be "short haul" railroad freight. And the short haul that is accomplished by motortruck has gradually lengthened from ten or fifteen miles until now much freight is carried 200 miles in trucks.

Such facts are the basis of a drive being made on congress for legislation to empower the federal government to unify roads of the country into a comprehensive system and to spend the money necessary to make the roads adequate to meet the new requirements. The federal government, it is claimed by proponents of the plan, must do the work, because a central authority is absolutely necessary to the perfection of a national system of roads.

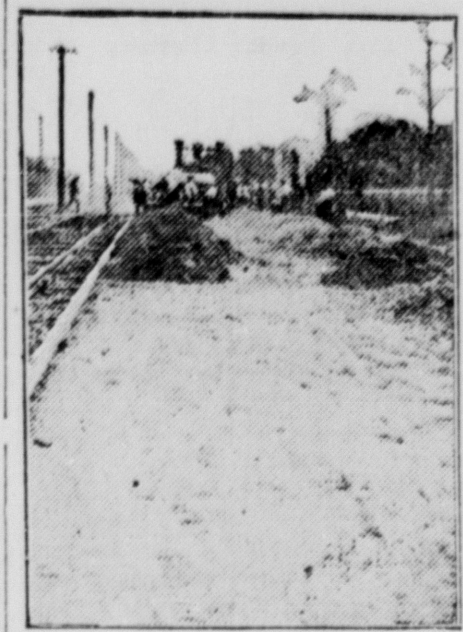

The federal government should spend the money, they say, because their military value makes the roads a great national asset. This military value of good roads is already shown by the dependence which the government is placing upon them for the moving of troops and supplies. In Europe it has been even more convincingly demonstrated. It has been said that good roads saved France and the lack of them defeated Russia. It is certainly true that the French had the best roads in the world when the war broke out and that the men and supplies which checked the first German rush went forward largely by motor. It is also true that a breakdown of all transportation facilities prevented Russia from effectually mobilizing her tremendous resources.

There is now a federal office of good roads, operating under the federal road act, whereby the government appropriates funds for roads, provided the states in which the roads are to be built will appropriate a similar amount. This gives the government the power to recommend the improvement or building of certain roads and to disapprove the improvement or building of others. It may exercise a sort of advisory and mildly compulsory power toward the establishment of a unified national system of roads. But this power, it is argued, is by no means sufficient in an emergency like the present. What is needed is the power to form a definite plan for a system of national highways, and the funds to carry that plan into execution as rapidly as possible.

For this new national system of highways must not only be thoroughly co-ordinated, but must be radically different from that of most of our present roads. The failure of these latter is largely due to the fact that roads which sufficed very well for the traffic of light pleasure cars and farmers' wagons will not stand up under the strain of heavy truck traffic. A truck highway, to meet the requirements now being laid upon it, must be a paved highway with a concrete base. Such a road is very expensive to build; it costs from $20,000 to $30,000 a mile.

Are The Packers Profiteers?

Plain Facts About The Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary.

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit—a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

The aggregate three-year profit of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales—or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.

Furthermore—and this is very important—only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the businesses. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve—and solve quickly—during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former prices for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The additional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the Allies.

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say—and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement.

Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

The five packers mentioned feel justified in co-operating with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fairmindedness of the American people with the facts before them.
